ISIS vows Eiffel Tower drone attack in new poster

Published October 17, 2018

The Sun

ISIS has threatened a drone attack on the Eiffel Tower with a chilling new poster.

The threat comes just four months after Paris installed a 10ft anti-terror wall around the landmark, using bulletproof glass to protect visitors from potential attacks.

The red and black poster shows a drone carrying a sizeable object while flying next to the Eiffel Tower, which is framed in crosshairs.
